To whom it may concern,

I am writing to let you know how well the Slater family have settled into Brimpton Primary School. The children - [REDACTED] are delightful and show an enthusiasm for school and learning everyday. The children's manners are impeccable and they will always say 'Good Morning' or 'Goodbye' to me on the school gate. The children are always on time and beautifully dressed and presented.

Shelby and Jimmy as parents have been fully involved in the school life. They are the first to check the noticeboards for event updates or timings. They have attended church services and parents meetings and even joined our 'improving the school environment' committee at school. Mum has also volunteered on a school trip with us and has got to know other children and their families.

Their teacher Caroline Martin says that:

The children always participate well and their home reading book and record is always completed. The children are always bright and bubbly and are a huge part of our classroom.

The family have made a positive contribution to our Brimpton family and are a lovely and loving family. Above all they have the same values as us as a school which I feel is important to remember - 'to hold everyone in God's net of love'
